The Peacock, Rugby

This town centre Public House was lacking in any seating area to the front of the building.

On a main road it was crucial to increase business – creating an external aura of popularity thus creating additional business. To achieve this, Shades supplied seating areas to the left, the right and the front of the building.

We also installed attractive decking to both sides, added round wooden tables and finished off with our popular bolt down ashbins.

This completed the whole external area to offer a comfortable, clean and attractive environment.
